

Woohoo! DMEA's Changing Its Water Heater Rebates!

Starting Feb. 1, 2009, our co-op will provide rebates uniquely for electric water heaters that last a lifetime—and I plan on getting myself into hot water for a long time!

Starting Feb 1, 2009, DMEA will provide a $150 rebate on electric water heaters with lifetime warranties. There will be no rebates for any other type of water heater after this date.

Our co-op will provide an additional $25 rebate if our members purchase a timer with their new water heater.

Water heaters with lifetime warranties are energy efficient. Thick insulation saves you money on your energy bill--the water stays hot.

Electric water heaters with lifetime warranties have the lowest total cost of ownership: Their durability eliminates buying a new water heater every 10-years (national average), thus also eliminating the cost and hassle of re-installing a water heater every 10-years or so. They also have fewer problems than problematic 'instantaneous' or 'tankless' water heaters.
